In each of the eight groups the two teams with the most victories advance; if two teams have the same number of victories, the team that won the match between them advances; otherwise the team with the most aggregate preliminary round (raw) points advances

Most Magnanimous Team

Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO, Team Basdevant). Officially, we have no “Best Sport” award, but the sportsmanship of MGIMO in this year’s competition was unprecedented: in the preliminary rounds, one of MGIMO’s opponents failed to appear for the match, resulting in an ex parte round and an uncontested victory for MGIMO. Shortly after the round, when the opponent realised its mistake, it asked if the match could be re-heard and MGIMO agreed. The re-match was scheduled for the break before the Round of 16 matches, started late, and went over time. Still, a modicum of justice was done, in that MGIMO advanced. However by this time MGIMO had to go directly into their Round of 16 match without any break at all and completely exhausted after five preliminary round matches. They did not complain. Hat’s off to MGIMO
